Porsche's design studio, Studio F.A. Porsche, launched its very own futuristic superyacht which features a spa pool on the rear deck, al fresco dining area and can be fitted with three or four cabins down below, all for a price tag of just over £12million

Inside there is a spacious 'saloon' and meeting area where the proud new owner can entertain guests with panoramic views of the surrounding ocean thanks to floor-to-ceiling glass windows

The interior styling has been perfected by Italian fashion house Minotti and features wood flooring, marble countertops, carbon fibre detailing and leather furniture finishes

Porsche's design company, Studio F.A. Porsche has launched its very own super-yacht which will set owners back £12million and come complete with a spa pool, al-fresco dining area and space for up to four guests below decks.

The stunning craft was launched at Viareggio, in Italy, and will now travel to Monaco in time for the annual Yacht Show which runs from September 27 to 30.

Just seven of the yachts will be made, guaranteeing the owners an almost-unique slice of boating history, provided they can stump up the cash to purchase one.

The design company says the boat was designed for 'car lovers and forward-thinking yacht owners who appreciate the advantages of speed, style and our philosophy of intelligent performance.'

Interior styling was taken care of by Italian design-house Minotti, whose works appeared in the film Fifty Shades Darker, and features carbon fibre detailing, marble counter-tops, and fine leather finishes.
